A Mermaid Captured.

A Jacksonville, Fla., dispatch of April 22d, gives the following: W. W. Stanton, master of the schooner Addie Schaffer, now lying at the Market-house dock, while fishing for bass 300 miles off St. Augustine, drew in his line and found entangled therein a peculiar fish. The strange creature is about six feet in length, pure white and scaleless. The head and face are wonderfully human in shape and features. The shoulders are well outlined and very much resemble those of a woman. The body is well defined and shows considerable development, while the hips and the abdomen continue the human appearance. There are four flippers, two of which are placed at the lower termination of the body, and give one an impression that nature made an effort to supply the strange creature with lower limbs. Mr. Stanton confesses quite a fright on the first sight of his queer prize, which, on being drawn on board, gave utterance to a low, moaning cry, which might have been mistaken for sobbing. The object lived two days after being taken. It is now in a large jar of alcohol.

Will Catch 'Em.

The Times Review remarks: "There is talk of organizing the American party in this State. If Congress and our President give us free coinage, the Republican party will be American enough for the Times-Review. If they don't do something for the silver interest, there is bound to be a general stampede politically, and the party manifesting the most friendship for metalism will be certain to corral the dissenters. No better proof of true Americanism could be manifested than the restoration of the American silver dollar to the position it occupied before it was degraded at the instance of foreign capitalists, and doubtless by the lavish expenditure of foreign gold."

Concessions Wanted.

During the discussion of the public worship estimates in the Diet at Berlin last week, Windhorst, leader of the Clericals, asked for the creation of a Catholic section in the ecclesiastical affairs department, and made other demands for concessions to the Catholics. Minister Von Gossler said that the Government could not comply.

Buffalo Bill's Wild West show, has made its initial appearance in Germany, in Munich, where 15,000 people saw the first performance. The San Francisco Post says Buffalo Bill must be accounted one of the most successful advertisers and amusement providers of the age. No American theatrical company could have achieved anything like the success in Europe which has attended the exhibition of his miscellaneous collection of crack shots, bucking horses and tamed Indians.

The San Francisco Chronicle says Huntington's scapegrace son-in-law, Prince Hatzfeldt, professes a lordly contempt for public opinion and a kind of scientific curiosity in regard to the interviewer. Wait until he comes over here. He will be eager then to show courtesy to the reporters or they will draw a portrait of him more vitriolic than his father-in-law could paint, even after filling out a check for his gambling debts.

At Johnstown, Pa., three children who were insured in one of the many baby insurance companies have developed symptoms of poisoning, and one of them is already dead. Of course baby insurance is a legitimate business, but to an unprejudiced observer it does seem that some of the later developments of civilization come very near offering a chronicle for murder.

San Francisco is still above water, notwithstanding the crazy prophecy that it was to have sunk on the 14th of this month. Most of the dupes who fled to the mountains have returned to their homes, while some felt so cheap and humiliated over the failure that they left the State without returning to the city.

The Bodie Miner says: Baffling as the fact may seem, it is a fact nevertheless that there is no special provision in our statute books which prohibits a man, even as big a man as a county officer from making a damned fool of himself.

Captain Couch, the Oklahoma boomer leader, is dead. He died from blood poison, the result of a gun-shot wound in the knee received on the 4th of April, from one J. C. Adams. He leaves a wife and five children.

The Salvation Army of Los Angeles will fight the ordinance which prohibits parading with a drum. Seventeen of the army were arrested Sunday evening.

The Australian Ballot Reform law of Rhode Island went into effect and was tested at the election last week in that State, with startling results.

Kemmler, the first man to be executed by electricity in the United States will be struck by lightning in Auburn, New York, some day next week. This execution will test the practicality of executing murderers by electrocution instead of hanging.

The war ship Charleston returned from her ocean trip last Saturday. Everything worked satisfactorily.

Callings.

The Republican State Convention of California will meet at Sacramento the 12th of August.

The Chicago pool-rooms were running in full blast again last Sunday, and were not interfered with by the police.

Burglars took $2,200 from the bed-coverings of S. L. Arnold, of Galesburg, Ill., Sunday night, while he was asleep.

The conference report on the Oklahoma bill was Wednesday agreed to in the Senate, and the bill now goes to the President. The President Wednesday sent to the Senate the nomination of Thomas B. Shannon, of San Francisco, as Receiver of Public Money.

John F. Cowden, said to have been the oldest Odd Fellow in the country, died Sunday at Amesbury, Mass., aged 82 years. He joined the order in Philadelphia in 1831.

John Halsey, of New Brunswick, N. J., is said to have made $200,000 by selling a mine, organizing the New Brunswick and Colorado Mining Company and placing the stock on the market.

The Southern trip of the Pan-American is to be abandoned, owing to the number who availed themselves of the invitation being so small. The delegation was at Richmond Wednesday.

The Ohio Legislature has enacted a law requiring the officers of all State and county institutions to purchase for consumption live stock which has been in the State 100 days before being killed.

A druggist named Calhoun shot an officer who was sent to arrest him for selling whisky at McCormick, S. C., last Sunday. A fight ensued among the friends of both parties, in which P. B. Calhoun was fatally shot.

At the conclusion of a bull fight in Guadalajara, Mexico, Sunday, a section of the amphitheater collapsed, precipitating thousands of spectators to the ground. No one was killed, but hundreds were wounded, many, it is believed, fatally.

The Walker Lake Bulletin says. The advance in silver is a subject of congratulation among mine owners of the Pacific Coast, who feel satisfied that the metal will soon be at par. The upward movement is due to the heavy purchases of silver in London by the Government for British India, and the prospects for favorable legislation in this country. The manner in which the committee are juggling with the proposed measures for granting relief to mining men, is highly suggestive that the action of the market cuts an important factor in the case. There is a good chance for the Democrats to make a point just now, which will capture the Western States for the party next election, by going in and putting an end to the nonsense by passing a free coinage act. They will get enough Republican votes to carry the measure.

Starting Off in the Right Direction.

The new Brazilian marriage law makes civil marriage obligatory. Any marriage not made before civil powers is null and void. The Brazilians are copying after the American form of government, and taking advantage of our hundred years of experience, by adopting our successes and avoiding our mistakes and failures. They have separated church and State in unmistakable terms. While religion is left free, and all sects tolerated, they must keep hands off civil government affairs and the public schools. Neither can a priest nor ministry hold any civil office. The civil government proposes to deal exclusively with civil affairs, and marriage is but a civil contract entered into by the contracting parties, and not simply a church sacrament as the church would have it. The Brazilians also propose to abolish any compulsory religious day and make all holidays free for all to observe or not, as each may feel inclined. Oaths are to be abolished, and the simple affirmation used in its stead. The property of all religious associations are to be taxed the same as other property. The right to vote and hold office is based on an intelligent qualification and officeholders held responsible to their constituents for their conduct. In short Brazil will be the model republic of the world.

J. Wilkes Booth, Again.

The woman who says Wilkes Booth is living and that she received letters from him two years after his reported death, is trying to create a sensation on very little capital. Too many people saw the corpse of the assassin to permit of the belief in the theory that he is alive extending widely.—Exchange.

The body of J. Wilkes Booth was buried by the authorities of Washington, D. C., after being fully identified, under the floor of the old Capital Prison. After the war, during Johnson's administration, upon application of his friends, he was quietly taken up and removed to Baltimore and buried in the family plot or tomb, as any one can learn if he takes the trouble to enquire.

Stanley has arrived in Paris.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—It is stated in railroad circles that dining cars will be put on the fast mail train on the Central Pacific just as soon as Pullman can build three cars for that purpose. The Union Pacific, which now runs dining cars from Chicago via Granger to Portland, will then run a car from Granger to Ogden, and by this arrangement there will be established a dining car service from ocean to ocean, via Chicago, Omaha and Ogden.

CALIFORNIA EARTHQUAKES.

GENERAL GREELEY TO MAKE A TOUR OF THE SIGNAL SERVICE STATIONS.

A Double Murder at San Francisco—A White Man's Bad Tricks.

California Shock Up.

Special to the Journal.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—One of the most severe shocks of earthquake experienced here for a long time was felt in this city and neighboring localities a little after 3 o'clock this morning. Buildings were shaken perceptibly and persons aroused from their sleep. The plastering fell from the walls in places. No serious damage is reported yet.

A dispatch from Mayfield states that the shock was very severe there. The railroad bridge was rendered impassable, as piles sixty feet high were settled a few inches and the rails were spread apart about a foot. The ground in places settled from six to twelve inches, and railroad travel will be delayed a few hours.

The earthquake which was felt here early this morning was general in this section of the State. The shock was very sharp in this city but no serious damage done. Walls of a few houses including the U. S. Appraisers building, in which the Federal Courts are held, were cracked and there was considerable alarm felt by persons who were aroused from their sleep. The most serious damage is reported from Payaro, where the railroad bridge was thrown two feet out of line and the approaches to it damaged. Gas mains were disjoined at Gilroy and many chimneys thrown down in the neighborhood of Watsonville. In some localities as many as a dozen distinct shocks were felt.

SALINAS, April 24.—About 3.40 o'clock this morning a sharp earthquake was felt here, followed by a very severe shock, which lasted 25 seconds. There were thirteen distinct quakes up to six and ten o'clock when the last was felt. The only damage was the breaking of two large panes of glass in the Court House. The vibrations were from northeast to southwest.

Civil Service Goes.

Special to the Journal.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—A number of amendments relating to Civil Service sections of the legislative appropriation bill were rejected. Biggs, of California denounced the Civil Service law. It was, he said, conceived in sin and brought forth in iniquity. Pendleton was its father, George W. Curtis, its granny, and Dorwan B. Eaton its nurse and elout washer. Many other members opposed the bill.

Honks' motion to strike out the clause appropriating salaries for the Civil Service Commission was lost 61 to 120 and pending further action the committee rose and the House adjourned.

Congressional Proceedings.

Special to the Journal.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Without action on Hoar's Election bill or Revenue Marine bill, the land forfeiture bill was taken up and amendments as reported from the Committee on Public Lands agreed to. Berry moved to amend the first section of the bill, so as to forfeit all lands granted to railroad companies, where the lines were not completed within the time fixed in the Act and subsequent extension of it. After discussion the amendment was rejected the Republicans voting in the negative. The bill was then laid on the table and the Senate adjourned.

Final Report.

Special to the Journal.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—The final meeting of the Executive Committee appointed on the 7th of March to provide labor for the unemployed of San Francisco was held to-day, and a report submitted showing that the citizens' contributions for the purpose amounted to $30,776, which was all expended upon the construction of a public road in the western part of Golden Gate Park.

The Full Amount.

Special to the Journal.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—In the suit of Jeremiah Cox against his attorney, D. I. Delmas, to recover $32,862, value of claims purchased by Delmas under Cox's instructions, but held by Delmas to be a private speculation. Judge Shafter set aside the former verdict which awarded Cox $32,862 and gave Cox a verdict for the full amount.

"Old Prob."

Special to the Journal.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—It is understood that General Greeley, Chief Signal officer, will start in a few days on an extensive tour of inspection among the signal stations in Arizona, Utah and Nebraska.

More Strikes.

Special to the Journal.

CHICAGO, April 24.—It was originally the intention of the American Federation of Labor that carpenters only should demand the enforcement of the eight-hour day system, but the stock yards and packing house employees, gas fitters, iron moulders, stair builders, mill carpenters and harness makers have already declared their intention to strike and their example will likely be followed by others.

A Tragedy.

Special to the Journal.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—Michael Lane, a stone-cutter, shot and fatally wounded his wife at their home on Lafayette street to-day, and then blew out his own brains. Lane and his wife had always lived happily together, and the only cause that can be assigned for the tragedy is insanity, as Lane had been unwell for some time, and it is supposed he suddenly lost his reason. They had a large family of children, nearly all of whom are grown. The tragedy was discovered by a young son who returned home from school this afternoon and found his parents on the floor dying. Both were covered with blood as were all articles of furniture in the room. Mrs. Lane had two bullet holes in her head, and her skull was also crushed by a blow from a hammer, leading to the supposition that Lane had completed his work with that instrument after shooting his wife. Lane shot himself in the temple, the ball passing through his brain. He had a revolver clasped in his hand when found. He died in a short time, and there is no hope of his wife's recovery.

WHAT ON EARTH

Is the reason people will not, can not or do not get any difference in cheap nostrums put up by cheap John houses or irresponsible parties at enormous profits, rather than take a medicine of world wide reputation and one that is giving universal satisfaction at equal price. No medicine in the world is giving such unparalleled satisfaction for purifying the blood as BEECH'S BLOOD PURIFIER and BLOOD MAKER.

And every bottle that does not do its work will cost you nothing.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Peculiar

Many peculiar points make Hood's Sarsaparilla superior to all other medicines. Peculiar in combination, proportion, and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom.

Peculiar in its strength and economy—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of its kind which can truly be said to "One Hundred Doses Dollar." Medicines in larger and smaller bottles require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's.

Peculiar in its medicinal merits, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown, and has won for itself the title of "The greatest blood purifier ever discovered."

Peculiar in its "goodname at home,"—there is now more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in the United States than of all other blood purifiers.

Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad, no other preparation has ever attained such popularity in so short a time, and retained its popularity of people so steadfastly.

Do not be induced to buy other preparations, but be sure to get the Peculiar Medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Geo. R. Mosher will be back from California this morning.

Senator Stanford and wife will pass through Reno this morning on their way East.

After all the talk about water storage the rivers and streams are running to waste as usual this Spring.

J. G. Dixon, Deputy Sheriff of Lander county, landed on insane Indian at the Asylum yesterday.

Supt. Wright, of the Carson Mint, will shortly take a trip to San Diego for the benefit of his health.

Fishermen are complaining of the fish ladders and dams in the Truckee river. The ladders are of no use, and fish cannot come up the river.

Nasby is settling down to his business as Postmaster of Reno, but there is a bald spot already appearing on the top of his colossal cranium.

There will be services at Trinity church this evening at 7:30 o'clock. Bishop Leonard will preach, and also administer the rite of confirmation.

Judge R. R. Bigelow has been spending the past week in Elko and the surrounding country, seeing what he has left of his cattle on a thousand hills.

The railroad carpenters are rebuilding the flume at Marker's ranch at Big Meadows, Humboldt county, which was washed away about two weeks ago.

Geo. F. Turrittin, who has been appointed U. S. Surveyor General for the State of Nevada, will be in Reno in a few days to take charge of his office.

Casper Becker, of Hoffman's brewery, is about to stock a large frog pond near his place of business. He expects to raise millions of frogs, and will brew an elixir of life from their hops.

Judge S. D. King has rented his law office to Mrs. Bliss as a millinery store, and he will depart for the northern country in a few days. Thus we lose a good citizen and a fine lawyer.

T. V. Julien, who has been confined to his house with an attack of bilious fever, is getting to be himself again, and will probably be found next week at his desk in the Clerk's office as affable as ever.

The chief, first and second assistant editors and foreman were all absent from town yesterday, and no one left to run the JOURNAL but the devil. That is the reason why the paper looks so well and is so newswy this morning.

L. L. Crockett, who has been snowed in at Incline since last November, came down last night to spend a few days at home. He says 47 feet of snow fell there during the winter, and there is 12 feet on the level now. He also says Lake Tahoe has risen three feet, and that for the past two days there has been lots of water coming in.

Bad boys are giving the attendants of the M. E. Church at Austin, Nev., considerable annoyance by gathering in the hallway and passing rude and insulting remarks to the ladies and gentlemen as they pass. The authorities have taken the matter in hand. So it seems that Reno does not contain all the hoodlums in the country.

What Does the Critter Mean.

During the past week many of our merchants have received a printed notice from Deputy Revenue Collector Reid which contains the following:

"In payment for license, send either cash, Wells Fargo order or check, but no postal money order if you can help it."

This mysterious message has caused much speculation about town as to its meaning. People are eager to know why a Government official should send forth a notice which will throw distrust upon the Government service. Postmaster Sumner has written to the Postmaster General enclosing one of the notices, and asking for an investigation. Meantime, perhaps our Collector will enlighten us.—Walker Lake Bulletin.

The business men of Reno received similar orders. Even our Postmaster, himself, received notice that his money orders were not acceptable to the worthy Collector.

Bold, Bad Boys.

Last week boys worked their way one night to the second floor of the building occupied by Thomas Haffron as a restaurant from the ground floor on D street, Virginia City, and stole a window out of its frame. This is not quite as bad as stealing a roof or a corner stone from a building, but it is splendid exercise for the ultimate accomplishment of either.

Still Another.

Appeal: Charlie Counter, a poor Carson boy, who used to work in the box factory, won $15,000 in the Louisiana lottery. He lives now at Reno. A man in Winnemucca also captured $15,000. Occasionally the State gets in.

How many of those $15,000 coupons were sold last month, anyway?

A Lively Communication.

HELENA, MONT., April 12, 1889.

ALLEN C. BRAGG, Esq., RENO, NEV.—Sir: Yours of the 8th inst. stating "that well authenticated rumor has it that you borrowed money from nearly every one you had business with here, and in Eureka, White Pine and Lander, and what I published was called out by an article in the Carson Appeal."

"If you so desire, I can take the trouble to look up your record, and will give it publicity if it is your wish" was this day received.

I hoped that you had sufficiently of gentlemanly generosity, as an editor, to insert in your paper my card, the receipt of which you have acknowledged. That card, if published would throw upon you the burden of proving to be true your statements, in the issue referred to, in the card.

If I have virtually stolen money from the citizens of Nevada or elsewhere, I should be shown up publicly whether or not I "desire" it.

While I do not deny having creditors in Nevada, I do insist that he lies, who says that my creditors did not know of my "whereabouts," and were inquiring as to the same, or that I "borrowed money of nearly every one I had business with in Reno, Eureka, White Pine and Lander."

If you will adhere strictly to truth, I am not in the least reluctant in desiring and asking that you show me up. Very respectfully,
ALLEN A. GARNER.

Query.

Where did those Louisiana lottery tickets come from which are reported to have won the first prize in Reno and Verdil last week? The official report from the officers of the lottery gives the places where the whole ten coupons were sold, and they were all in the Eastern States, except three. One of the three was sold in Los Angeles, Cal., one in San Louis Obispo and the other in Deadwood, California. Yet, the agent who sold the ticket reported to have been won in Reno, declares he bought all of his tickets direct from New Orleans! Now was that ticket counterfeit, or is the reported winning untrue?

Drowned.

John Dillard, aged 10 years, son of Thomas Dillard, of Wadsworth, was drowned in the Truckee river at that place Wednesday. He was spearing drift wood, and was standing on the outside of the railing on one of the cross timbers of the wagon bridge crossing the river, and from some cause unknown fell into the stream. The rapid current bore him beyond reach, and he finally sank when near the Fainagle dam. Tip Gladding made heroic efforts to save him, but in vain.

Assessment Work for 1890.

Miners who have done their assessment work for the year 1889 in Washoe county are associated with co-owners who have neglected or refused to contribute their proportion of the cost of such work, should give legal notice of such delinquent co-owners through the columns of the JOURNAL, as required by law. Such notices must be published three months before other action can be taken.

Homeward-Bound Lawyers.

Orin Thornton, Barclay Henley, Patrick Reddy and others, who have been engaged for a week past at Independence, Inyo county, in the trial of the Broderick-Conklin land case, passed through here night before last on their return trip to the Bay, where they will argue the case at their leisure and comfort.

The Pumping Machinery.

S. F. Report: The first installment of the pumping machinery for the drainage of the Gold Hill mines will be sent from the foundry in this city at the close of the present week. The station at the Sutro tunnel level of the Crown Point mine is ready to receive it.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle.

RAGPICKERS OF PARIS.

MRS. FRANK LESLIE WRITES OF THE CHIFFONNIERS.

Some Astonishing Facts About These Strange Scavengers of the Streets of the Great French Capital—Their Organization and Their Work.

M. Rouff, a dealer in diamonds, lost a fine, large pearl, weighing 125 grains and valued at $8,000. He immediately put posters up on all the walls of Paris offering a handsome reward for its recovery. Several weeks elapsed, when a poor woman called on the commissary of police in the Rue Montmartre and handed the lost pearl to that official. Her name was Gantier. She was a chiffonniere, or female ragpicker, by trade, and had found the pearl in a heap of rubbish in the Rue Laffitte. She lived in a small wooden shanty in the Rue du Rousseau, a poorly tenanted street belonging to a quarter known as Les Grandes Carrières, so named from the "large quarries" on the northern slopes of Montmartre, where the city formerly got much of its fine limestone for building.

The new law that forbids housekeepers placing their rubbish in the streets over night has been a sad blow to the corporation to which this poor, honest woman belongs. Some compensation has, it is true, been offered them by the tolerance of the police, who close their eyes to the infringement of the regulations in the narrow streets which are lined with shops and warehouses. They have each their own conscience, who permits them to forage at daybreak among the rubbish brought down by the servants from upstairs.

They have a longer day's work now. Formerly they started out at 10 at night, and at 4 or 5 in the morning, when the carts made their rounds, they had disappeared from the streets. Now they must remain until the scavengers appear on the scene, or at least until the boxes of rubbish have been emptied into the common bin placed on the edge of the curb by each concierge.

They have the work of sorting to do when they get back from their early morning task of collecting the refuse. Some sell it to a boss or trier (sorter), as he is called, who stays at home and does nothing else. He sits in his room like a gentleman, and there quietly assembles, examines and separates the different articles picked up by his work people. He then sells the material to buyers of various sorts.

The business is anything but a lucrative one. Parisians, however, throw away every year more than 300,000 tons of stuff, which the ragpickers collect and sell for upward of 25,000,000 francs, or nearly $5,000,000. The daily returns amount in all to more than 70,000 francs ($14,000), but there are 40,000 men and women to share the sum between them, so that each gets an average of 1 franc 75 centimes, or less than 35 cents. Two hundred pounds of waste paper cannot be sold for more than a couple of francs, woolen rags are only worth 6 cents a pound, cotton 3 cents, and bones at best fetch 1 franc 85 centimes, or 37 cents, per hundred weight.

A ragpicker's steady all night—for they still ply their trade on a small scale, despite the edict of the prefect—may earn, if he has a fair amount of good fortune, from forty to sixty cents, but not more. A silver spoon does occasionally turn up in the rubbish, but a pearl of purest orient hue—well, so to speak, never. Besides, every member of the corporation of ragpickers is bound under severe penalties to deposit any valuable he may find at the nearest police office. Each has a card or ticket with a number inscribed, and a number corresponding with that on the card is fastened to the bottle or basket. Ragpickers, moreover, have always been noted for their industry and honesty.

The "new law" I have alluded to was a decree enacted by M. Pouhelle, prefect of the Seine, requiring every concierge to provide a box for the rubbish of the tenants, and to have it ready for the dust carts on their morning rounds. It came into force Jan. 15, 1884. The evident effect, if not the object, of this regulation was to check the chiffonniere's occupation, and to give the dust contractor a monopoly of the refuse. On sanitary grounds the prefect may have been right, but policy required moderation even in a question where the health of so large a city as Paris is concerned. The fact of suddenly reducing so large a crowd of honest servants to downright beggary was a mistake.

Public opinion, which in France, as in other countries of a similar high degree of civilization, is the supreme ruler, spoke up in favor of the ragpicker and against that minor sovereign known as the prefect of the Seine. Many deputies also humanely joined in the protest, so that the now immortal M. Pouhelle was constrained to offer partial excuses for his action in the matter, and promised that the utmost tolerance should be exercised by the authorities in behalf of this particular and—as he admitted—"most honorable" industry. The ragpickers were in future to be allowed to turn out the new dust boxes, so as to be able to rake over the contents.

I will conclude this article about ragpickers by relating the story of a poor woman, Mme. Yvonne, who arrived at competency by collecting orange peel, and thereby not only helped herself, but gave occupation to others. She became a rich person, a great patroness of art and a regular habitue of the opera. Her husband was in business as a distiller of spirits and essences, such as are used by perfumers and dealers in liqueurs. She gave him as much assistance as she could. He, however, died, whereupon she tried for some time to carry on the distillery alone, but without success.

Talking over matters one day with the keeper of a restaurant where she used to take her dinner, she was much struck with a remark that he made, to the effect that there was a fortune to be realized by some clever person in the orange and lemon peel which was daily tarrown away by the garçons of the cafes.

She took the hint and pondered over it. The next thing she did was to sell her stock in trade and become a sort of amateur chiffonniere, with this difference—that the object of her quest was orange and lemon peel only. She struck up business relations with the limonadiers and the various waiters who—well, you know how men are!—were glad to help a young and, as she was then, good looking woman. They all, in fact, watched her venture in this new line with considerable interest.

She had a tiresome task at first, but soon as she got to be known matters went on more smoothly. The peel proved a success. In fact, she prospered so rapidly that she was long able to employ other hands to do the dirty work of collecting the material from the streets, as also from the theatres, for the sweepings of which she contracted.

She prosided herself over some thirty young women in her orange and lemon peel warehouse, all of whom were busily occupied in cleaning, pressing and packing the peel as it arrived, an operation which she christened by the word "zester." Vast quantities of zeste were daily sent away to all parts of France and abroad to form the basis of Dutch curries, orangeade, citronade and the many kinds of light drinks and aperients which are met with over the continent. She has now retired from business, and enjoys the hard earned fruits of her former labor.—Mrs. Frank Leslie in Detroit News.

250 Beautiful Lots For Sale!

A RARE CHANCE FOR AN INVESTMENT AND A HOME

THE MOST LOVELY PORTION OF RENO.

Facing the Truckee—The Aristocratic Avenue—Riverside Driveway—Splendid Sewerage—Healthy Location and Safe From Fire.

The proprietor is now ready to receive proposals for lots in Powning's Addition. The map gives a good idea of the tract, which is situated between the Central Pacific Railroad and the Truckee River, and commences on the west at a point three blocks distant from Virginia Street, making it the most central and convenient of any portion of the rapidly growing town of Reno. Unlike any other part of the town this Addition faces the beautiful Truckee River and Riverside Avenue is certain to become the fashionable driveway of the country. The streets are 80 feet wide, while Riverside and Keystone Avenues are intended to be 100 feet in width. All alleys are 20 feet wide. The soil is a rich gravelly loam, and susceptible of the highest state of cultivation. Being situated as it is it is more safe from fire than any other section. The regular lots are 60x140 feet. The sewerage is perfect.

Before Buying Elsewhere Parties will do Well to Look at These Lots.

RENO

Reno's geographical position is excellent. It is on the line of the Central Pacific Railroad, only 154 miles from Sacramento, and 244 miles from San Francisco. It is the terminus of the Virginia and Truckee Railroad running south, and of the Nevada and California Railroad running north. It has two Flouring Mills, Planing Mills, three Nurseries, a Soap Factory, Reduction Works, and other industries. A great Woolen Mill and a Sash, Door, Blind and Box Factory, are about to be established.

Reno has the Bank of Nevada with $300,000 capital, and the First National Bank with $200,000 capital. It has two fine papers in the DAILY and WEEKLY NEVADA STATE JOURNAL and the Daily and Weekly Gazette.

Reno is the natural home of the Alfalfa, and therefore the great cattle headquarters of the State. Here are fed the prime beef for the California market. Reno potatoes are the best in the world, and she also excels in Strawberries and the small fruits. Reno Wheat took the first prize at the great New Orleans Exposition.

The State Fair is always held at Reno.

Reno is the County Seat of Washoe County, the wealthiest county in Nevada.

RENO

Has no equal in Nevada or California for salubrity of climate, wealth of soil, diversity of products and stability. Situated in the very heart of the celebrated Truckee Meadows the future of Reno is assured. Reno is the City of Homes. There is not a house to rent in Reno. New buildings are occupied as fast as erected. Reno has advantages which no other town can equal. The climate is mild and genial in Winter, and even and healthful in Summer. There are no excessively heated or severely cold terms, and while the days may be warm in Summer the nights are deliciously cool; in Winter sleigh-riding is the exception and not the rule.

Facilities for irrigating surpass any in the State and there is no failure of crops. Reno has Churches of all denominations, Bishop Whitaker's School for Girls, Mt. St. Mary's Academy, the State University, and splendid Public Schools.

The Reno Water Co. furnishes ample pure, cold water for all purposes. The Reno Electric Light Co.'s electric light system, already well established, is being augmented. The Reno Gas Co. supplies gas for all purposes. The streets of Reno are lighted by electricity.
